Fiduciary

Agent
Ellsworth Dobbs, Inc. v. Johnson, 50 N.J. 528, 553, 236 A.2d 843, 856 (1967):

“There can be no doubt that the business of the real estate broker is affected with a public interest. The Legislature has marked it off as distinct from occupations which are pursued of common right without regulation or restriction. Tanenbaum v. Sylvan Builders, Inc., 29 N.J. 63, 74, 148 A.2d 176 (1959); N.J.S.A. 45:15–1 et seq.

“Long before these enactments, the relationship between the broker and his principal was regarded as one affected by considerations of public policy. The broker was and is looked upon as a fiduciary and is required to exercise fidelity, good faith and primary devotion to the interests of his principal. Wilcox v. Reynolds, 169 Okl. 153, 36 P.2d 488 (1934); Haydock v. Stow, 40 N.Y. 363 (1869). He cannot permit his interests to interfere with those of his principal. As the Court of Errors and Appeals said in Young v. Hughes, 32 N.J.Eq. 372, pp. 384–385 (E. & A. 1880), the rule which applies to trustees has been equally applied to the relation between the real estate broker and his principal. He must show perfect good faith and openness of dealing. The rule was not intended to be remedial of actual wrong done alone, but also to be preventive of the possibility of it. He cannot engage in any unconscionable conduct toward his principal in the matter of his commission. McKelvy v. Milford, 37 So.2d 370 (La.App.1948); and see generally, 12 Am.Jur.2d, Brokers § 84 (1964).

“Unless otherwise agreed, an agent employed to buy or to sell is subject to a [351 A.2d 388] duty to the principal, within the limits set by the principal's directions, to be loyal to the principal's interests and to use reasonable care to obtain terms which best satisfy the manifested purposes of the principal. (2 Restatement, Agency 2d, § 424 at 287 (1958))"

NJ Admin Code 11:5-6.4 Obligations of licensees to public and to each other

(a) All licensees are subject to and shall strictly comply with the laws of agency and the principles governing fiduciary relationships. In accepting employment as an agent, the licensee pledges himself to protect and promote, as he would his own, the interests of the client or principal he has undertaken to represent; this obligation of absolute fidelity to the client’s or principal’s interest is primary but does not relieve the licensee from the obligation of dealing fairly with all parties to the transaction.

Disclosures to the Principal (Client)

- Generally: known, relevant, and material information
  - Facts affecting the value or desirability of the property
  - Information is “material” if a reasonable person would attach importance to its existence or non-existence in deciding whether or how to proceed in the transaction, or if the licensee knows or has reason to know that the recipient of the information regards, or is likely to regard it as important in deciding whether or how to proceed, although a reasonable person would not so regard it.
Disclosures to the Principal (Client)

- Examples of relevant information:
  - Physical condition of the property
    - Licensees shall disclose all information material to the physical condition of any property which they know or which a reasonable effort to ascertain such information would have revealed to their client or principal and when appropriate to any other party to a transaction. Licensees shall also disclose any actual or potential conflicts of interest which the licensee may reasonably anticipate. NJAC 11:5-6.4

CONSUMER INFORMATION STATEMENT ON NEW JERSEY REAL ESTATE RELATIONSHIPS

In New Jersey, real estate licensees are required to disclose how they intend to work with buyers and sellers in a real estate transaction. On rental transactions, the terms “buyer” and “seller” should be read as “tenants” and “landlords,” respectively.

1. AS A SELLER’S AGENT OR SUBAGENT, I, AS A LICENSEE, REPRESENT THE SELLER AND ALL MATERIAL INFORMATION SUPPLIED TO ME BY THE SELLER WILL BE TOLD TO THE BUYER.

2. AS A BUYER’S AGENT, I ACT WITHOUT EXPRESS PERMISSION, REPRESENT THE BUYER AND ALL MATERIAL INFORMATION SUPPLIED TO ME BY THE SELLER WILL BE TOLD TO THE BUYER.

4. AS A TRANSACTION BROKER, I, AS A LICENSEE, DO NOT REPRESENT EITHER THE BUYER OR THE SELLER, ALL INFORMATION I ACQUIRE FROM ONE PARTY MAY BE TOLD TO THE OTHER PARTY.

Before you disclose confidential information to a real estate licensee regarding a real estate transaction, you should understand what type of business relationship you have with that licensee. There are four business relationships: (1) seller’s agent; (2) buyer’s agent; (3) disclosed dual agent; and (4) transaction broker. Each of these relationships imposes certain legal duties and responsibilities on the licensee as well as on the seller or buyer represented. These four relationships are defined in greater detail below. Please read carefully before making your choice.

SELLER’S AGENT
A seller’s agent works only for the seller and has legal obligations, called fiduciary duties, to the seller. These include reasonable care, undivided loyalty, and confidentiality and full disclosure. Seller’s agents often work with buyers, but do not represent the buyers. However, in working with buyers as a seller’s agent, a licensee must act honestly. In dealing with both parties, a seller’s agent may not make any misrepresentations to either party on matters material to the transaction, such as the buyer’s financial ability to pay, and must disclose.

BUYER’S AGENT
A buyer’s agent works only for the buyer and has legal obligations, called fiduciary duties, to the buyer. These include reasonable care, undivided loyalty, and confidentiality and full disclosure. Buyer’s agents often work with sellers, but do not represent the sellers. However, in working with sellers as a buyer’s agent, a licensee must act honestly. In dealing with both parties, a buyer’s agent may not make any misrepresentations to either party on matters material to the transaction, such as the buyer’s financial ability to pay, and must disclose.

DISCLOSED DUAL AGENT
A disclosed dual agent represents both the seller and the buyer. In this relationship, the licensee has legal obligations, called fiduciary duties, to both parties. These include reasonable care, undivided loyalty, and confidentiality and full disclosure. A disclosed dual agent must ensure that the interests of both parties are protected and that any misrepresentations to either party on matters material to the transaction are avoided. In dealing with both parties, a disclosed dual agent may not make any misrepresentations to either party on matters material to the transaction, such as the buyer’s financial ability to pay, and must disclose.

TRANSACTION BROKER
The New Jersey Real Estate Licensing Law does not impose fiduciary duties on a transaction broker. A transaction broker works with both parties in a real estate transaction without representing anyone. A TRANSACTION BROKER DOES NOT PROMOTE THE INTERESTS OF ONE PARTY OVER THOSE OF THE OTHER PARTY TO THE TRANSACTION.

Private Standards

- Standard of Practice 3-4
- REALTORS®, acting as listing brokers, have an affirmative obligation to disclose the existence of dual or variable rate commission arrangements (i.e., listings where one amount of commission is payable if the listing broker’s firm is the procuring cause of sale/lease and a different amount of commission is payable if the sale/lease results through the efforts of the seller/landlord or a cooperating broker). The listing broker shall, as soon as practical, disclose the existence of such arrangements to potential cooperating brokers and shall, in response to inquiries from cooperating brokers, disclose the differential that would result in a cooperative transaction or in a sale/lease that results through the efforts of the seller/landlord. If the cooperating broker is a buyer/tenant representative, the buyer/tenant representative must disclose such information to their client before the client makes an offer to purchase or lease. In relevant part, the Consumer Fraud Act declares as an unlawful practice the knowing "concealment, suppression, or omission of any material fact with intent that others rely upon such concealment, suppression or omission, in connection with the sale or advertisement of any ... real estate." N.J.S.A. 56:8-2.
Off-Site Conditions

- Strawn v. Canuso 140 N.J. 43 (1995) 657 A.2d 420 established an affirmative duty for professional sellers of residential land to inform buyers about material off-site conditions that affect the property value.
- Three restrictions limiting duty to disclose off-site conditions:
  - the duty only applies to professional sellers and commercial brokers of residential housing
  - actual knowledge of the condition (known or should have known)
  - only need to disclose matters not reasonably ascertainable by the buyer
Off-Site Conditions

- In Strawn, Justice O'Hern, writing for a unanimous Court, held that pursuant to the Consumer Fraud Act and corollary common law principles, the defendants were subject to a duty to disclose off-site conditions affecting the value of the properties:
- A builder-developer of residential real estate or a broker representing it is not only liable to a purchaser for affirmative and intentional misrepresentation, but is also liable for nondisclosure of off-site physical conditions known to it and unknown and not readily observable by the buyer if the existence of those conditions is of sufficient materiality to affect the habitability, use, or enjoyment of the property and, therefore, render the property substantially less desirable or valuable to the objectively reasonable buyer.
- [Id. at 65, 657 A.2d 420.]
Off-Site Conditions

- Five months after the New Jersey Supreme Court decided Strawn, the Legislature enacted the New Residential Real Estate Off-Site Conditions Disclosure Act ("Disclosure Act"), N.J.S.A. 46:3C-1 to -12, L. 1995, c. 253 (eff. Sept. 12, 1995).

- The legislative history demonstrates that the Disclosure Act was passed in order to overturn Strawn.
Off-Site Conditions

- Even still, the disclosure scheme created in Sections 6, 8 and 9 of the Disclosure Act reaffirms the basic principle of Strawn—that home purchasers are entitled to disclosure of information respecting off-site conditions that may affect the value of their properties.

- Section 2 of the Disclosure Act, entitled “Legislative findings and declaration,” provides:
Off-Site Conditions

- The Legislature finds and declares that the purchase of a residence involves a substantial portion of the average household's net worth, and the decision to purchase a particular residence requires consideration of a wide range of factors concerning the area in which the residential real estate is located; that the professionals who engage in the business of selling newly-constructed residential real estate can facilitate prudent decision-making with respect to the purchase of residences by advising purchasers of the availability of information concerning factors which can reasonably be determined to exist and which may affect the value of the residence; that the due diligence responsibilities of purchasers and the disclosure duties of sellers of residential real estate are mutually interdependent and, therefore, ambiguity in the definition and assignment of the sellers' disclosure duties may inadvertently diminish the due diligence efforts of purchasers, or unnecessarily increase the costs of residential real estate transactions; and that there currently exists ambiguity concerning the disclosure duties of the sellers of residential real estate.
- The Legislature therefore determines that it is in the public interest to define the entirety of the disclosure duties of the sellers of newly-constructed residential real estate and to create a public repository of relevant off-site conditions which may be accessed by purchasers of such real estate.
- [N.J.S.A. 46:3C-2 (emphasis added).]
Off-Site Conditions

- The Act creates a disclosure scheme requiring persons who own, lease or maintain potentially dangerous off-site conditions as enumerated by the Act to provide the municipal clerk of each municipality in which the conditions exist a list of those conditions and their location, and to update the list annually. N.J.S.A. 46:3C-5.

- In addition, the Commissioner of the Department of Environmental Protection is required to provide all municipal clerks with lists of off-site conditions that are located within their respective jurisdictions. N.J.S.A. 46:3C-6.
Off-Site Conditions

- The Act requires the seller of new real estate construction to provide the prospective purchaser with a notice, as prescribed by the Act, of the availability of the lists of off-site conditions in the municipal clerk's office and of the buyer's right to cancel the contract within five days after its execution. N.J.S.A. 46:3C-8 to -9.
Off-Site Conditions

“Off-site conditions” refers to the following conditions as set forth in the New Residential Construction Off-Site Conditions Disclosure Act, N.J.S.A. 46:3C-3 (P.L. 1995 c.253), or as amended:

1. The latest Department of Environmental Protection listing of sites included on the National Priorities List pursuant to the “Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980,” 42 U.S.C. §§ 9601 et seq.;

2. The latest sites known to and confirmed by the Department of Environmental Protection and included on the New Jersey master list of known hazardous discharge sites, prepared pursuant to P.L. 1982, c.202 (N.J.S.A. 58.10-23.15 et seq.);

3. Overhead electric utility transmission lines conducting 240,000 volts or more;

4. Electrical transformer substations;

5. Underground gas transmission lines as defined in 49 C.F.R. 192.3;

6. Sewer pump stations of a capacity equal to, or in excess of 0.5 million gallons per day and sewer trunk lines in excess of 15 inches in diameter;

7. Sanitary landfill facilities as defined pursuant to section 3 of P.L. 1970, c.39 (N.J.S.A. 13:1E-3);

8. Public wastewater treatment facilities; and

Off-Site Conditions

- Sections 2, 10(a) and 10(b) of the Disclosure Act make clear that satisfaction of the disclosure responsibilities specified by the Act “shall be deemed to have satisfied fully the seller's disclosure duties pursuant to New Jersey law.” N.J.S.A. 46:3C-10(a).

Distinguish between newly constructed residential real estate and other than newly constructed.

- “Newly constructed” means any dwelling unit not previously occupied, excluding dwelling units constructed solely for lease and units governed by the National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974, 42 U.S.C. §§ 5402 et seq. NJAC 11:5-6.4.c.3.i.
- New Residential Construction Off-Site Conditions Disclosure Act, N.J.S.A. 46:3C-3 applies only to “newly constructed”

The address(es) and telephone number(s) of the municipalities relevant to this project and the appropriate municipal offices where the lists are made available are listed below. Purchasers are encouraged to exercise all due diligence in order to obtain any additional or more recent information that they believe may be relevant to their decision to purchase the residential real estate. The purchaser has five (5) business days from the date the contract is executed by the purchaser and the seller to send notice of cancellation of the contract to the seller. The notice of cancellation shall be sent by certified mail. The cancellation will be effective upon the notice of cancellation being mailed. In Nobrenga v. Edison Glen Associates, 167 N.J. 520, 772 A. 2d 368 (N.J., 2001), the NJ Supreme Court held that the New Residential Real Estate Off-Site Conditions Disclosure Act ("Disclosure Act" or "Act"), N.J.S.A. 46:3C-1 to -12, precludes plaintiffs from suing sellers and developers of real estate under the Consumer Fraud Act for failure to disclose off-site conditions, provided that the sellers and developers satisfy their disclosure obligations under Section 8 and 9 of the Act.

- “We need not debate the outer limits of the duty to disclose. Some courts have gone well beyond the confines of this case. In Reed v. King, 145 Cal. App.3d 261, 193 Cal. Rptr. 130 (1983), the court imposed a duty on the seller to disclose that a property had been the scene of a mass murder several years earlier. And in New York's so-called "poltergeist case," the purchaser argued that the presence of such spirits in his new home was a material element of the sale that should have been disclosed. The court agreed and imposed a duty on the seller to disclose that the property had been haunted. Stambovsky v. Ackley, 169 A.D.2d 254, 572 N.Y.S.2d 672 (1991).”
Stigmatized Property

[1] Stambovsky and Reed involved "stigmatized property," which has been defined as "property psychologically impacted by an event which occurred or was suspected to have occurred on the property, such event being one that has no physical impact of any kind." Morgan, The Expansion of the Duty of Disclosure in Real Estate Transactions: It's Not Just For Sellers Anymore, Fla.B.J., Feb. 1994, at 31. Some states have enacted legislation to provide guidance regarding the types of nonphysical or emotional defects that are material. See, e.g., Fla. Stat. Ann. § 689.25. New Jersey has no such legislation, and we do not address the materiality of such conditions.

    - Sometimes, several businesses that offer settlement services are owned or controlled by a common corporate parent. These businesses are known as "affiliates."   - HUD-1 Settlement Statement
    - One business day before the settlement, parties have the right to inspect the HUD-1 Settlement Statement, which itemizes the services provided and the fees charged. This form is filled out by the settlement agent who will conduct the settlement. The fully completed HUD-1 Settlement Statement generally must be delivered or mailed to parties at or before the settlement. In cases where there is no settlement meeting, the escrow agent will mail the HUD-1 after settlement, and parties have no right to inspect it one day before settlement.
  - Initial escrow account statement
    - At the settlement or within the next 45 days, the person servicing your loan must give you an initial escrow account statement. That form will show all of the payments which are expected to be deposited into the escrow account and all of the disbursements which are expected to be made from the escrow account during the year ahead. Your lender or servicer will review the escrow account annually and send you a disclosure each year which shows the prior year's activity and any adjustments necessary in the escrow payments that you will make in the forthcoming year.
